No. 107-The Changing Card.

To change the face of a playing card by merely passing the hand over it is simple enough—if you have the right

Bend two playing cards inward crossways at the center, and the upper half of one back to back with the lower half of the other. Then glue the double card on to another, as shown in the dia-

Bend the flap downward, and hold it tightly. The card will then appear quite .ormal, especially if held on the face of a pack. By simply passing the band over the card, and pushing up the flap, the denomination of the card is in-Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company
